Big Beet Pay On November 6th.

The biggest beet pay in the history of the industry in Southern Alberta will be made on Nov. 6th when nearly $2,000,000 will be divided among the 1,300 growers in the district. This represents the beets delivered up to October 26th, the cut off date aggregating 250,000 or about 75 per cent of the estimated total crop. The figures are based on an initial payment of $7.50 per ton, although it is thought by some that the initial payment may be $8.00 per ton which would increase the total proportionately. Since October 29th the delivery of beets has been maintained until the early part of this week when deliveries slackened off as growers finished up. By the end of this week there will not be many beets left to harvest.

The weather for the beet digging has been just about perfect. There has been some windy days, but by and by the weather has been favorable and growers have made the most of it and have their fields cleared now without any frost or disagreeable digging at all. The labor situation has not been acute and P.O.W. labor has helped out some and the Indians have also aided in the work so that a near record has been made in harvesting the nearly 335,000 tons over the district.

Both factories are having a good run and more than 3,000 tons of beets are being sliced each day. The beets are high in sugar content and the sugar content keeps up a new record in sugar production will probably be made this fall. To date the stored beets have kept in perfect condition and under present storage conditions with the roots all coming in without frost it looks as though storage losses may reach a new low. Beet trailers have been coming in at all hours of the day and night but these will slack off now as digging finishes and beets are moved from storage piles.

The Last Mile

Wars have been lost by armies and people who have thought them won too soon, by soldiers and civilians who were too confident of victory.

It may seem, of course, that this war has gone too far for that. The enemy has lost too much over to be able to recuperate. All that is true. We are a long way on the road to the total victory of which we have dreamed for five long years.

So much we have realized. But what we have not always realized is that victory is not an absolute term. There are kinds and qualities and measures of victory, and according to the kind and the measure, so will the future be.

There is small doubt that Germany is now playing her last strong cards—to save off crushing defeat until horror and war-weariness and the complacency that tends to follow the task that is almost done have had a chance to minimize the results. That is an old weapon of Germany, old and well-tried and successful. If we permit it again, we may find ourselves with a victory that still falls short of what we should, and what we could, have had.

Those who are old enough can remember such a victory. A victory that was to have lasted forever, that in fact, lasted twenty years. We cannot afford another war, in such a short time. This victory must be final, definite, complete. For the victory of three people and faint interest and the will only to have it over. Any other victory will be a defeat for Germany.

Even when the rumble of the guns is at last a silence we will not have complete victory. There must be assurances that we have not had in the past. We have known victory that was empty of confidence and security.

We have known where it ends. The war will not be over when we enter Berlin, any more than it was over when we entered Paris. There will still be a long hard road leading on from that important milestone.

The war will be over when lands are free again and dread no longer darkens people's faces, when suffering and starvation no longer drive men to violence and battle and new wars; when the sick and suffering, our own and others, are made whole again when tens of thousands of boys are back again in their own homes, in a land that has something better to offer than the uncertainty and insecurity of the land they left. Then we will be able to speak of victory, of victory that we may be able to endure.

We in Canada are being asked if we will go this last mile, or if in this hour of decision we will leave it to somebody else to act for us. It may be the last dollar and the last penny that will decide the measure of our success. Will we now begin to grudge the dollars that may bring the end near? We will be asked to answer that question for ourselves when we are faced with our Victory Loan.

It is our seventh Victory Loan, our fourth since Canada entered the war. In the previous loans Canada has subscribed almost seven and a half million dollars. This time we are asked to subscribe a hundred million dollars more than we have been asked before, because war's demands grow, they do not decrease. Now, with victory almost in sight, with the need to make it complete and lasting, now is the time for Canada to say:

"We will go that last mile for a victory not of today only, but for all the tomorrows."

Lions Club Hold Regular Meeting

Another interesting meeting of the Raymond Lions Club was held in the 2nd Hall Monday, October 16 with Pres. "Mutt" Ralph in the Chair.

Prayer was offered by Lion Rulon Dahl.

A member of the Vancouver Club was selling Boxes of Holly for Xmas and the members decided to purchase a box. Each member of the Vancouver Club had to raise funds through his individual effort.

It was decided to donate $50.00 to the Next of Kin Organization towards sending parcels to the men in Service.

The members promised that if the town would furnish the paint they would see that it was put on the fences around the skating rink.

Lion Jim Harker sang a solo which all the members enjoyed.

LEAH M. T. King either had to sing or be fined so Melvin sang. Nuf Sed. Let's hear from you again Melvin.

Dr. Walker who was present was asked to talk on the new drug Penicillin. This was very educational and enjoyed by all.

The meeting closed in the usual manner.

The executive met immediately after their regular meeting to discuss the Carnival dates.

Thursday November 30 and December 1st were set and the wheels set in motion for the different committees to start to work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Heninger returned home last week after spending ten days in Montreal to attend the graduation of their son Maurice from the McGill Medical College with his M.D. He is already enlisted in the R.C.A.F. and will now be stationed for service with the Force. We join with his many friends in Raymond in wishing him a successful future.

BETTER TOYS

Ottawa.—Santa Claus received a cheering message from the prices board to say More and better Xmas toys this year.

More of the toys in Yuletide stockings will be made of wood and plastic and fewer will be of paperboard, although paperboard has been used to a considerable extent for toys to which it is suited.

Metal toys will not be included in Santa's pack until 1945, the prices board said, because it likely will be several months before the toy industry can take advantage of the recent lifting of restrictions on the use of metal, and then only if materials and power are available.

DARWIN'S MISTAKE

Three monkeys sat on a coconut tree, discussing things as they're said to be. Said one to the others, "Now listen, you two, There's a certain rumor that can't be true, That man descended from our noble race! The crazy idea is a big disgrace! No monkey ever deserted his wife, Starved her babies and ruined her life, And you've never known a mother monkey To leave her babies with others to bunk, Or pass them on from one to another Till they scarcely know who is their mother; And another thing you'll never see— A white build a fence 'round a coconut tree, And let the coconuts go to waste, Forbidding all other monkeys a taste. We could put a fence 'round the tree Starvation would force you to steal from me. Here's another thing a monkey won't do— Go out at night and get on a stew, Or use a gun or club or knife, To take some other monkey's life. Yes, man DESCENDED—the monkey present. But brother, he d.d.n't eat man meat US!"

SUGAR BEET JUICE IN BLOCKS

Washington—Russia in concentrating sugar beet juice into solid blocks at the scene of the harvest to reduce transportation costs, according to reports reaching the commerce department.

Under a new method the juices are extracted, subjected to evaporation, converted into briquettes, and sent then to large establishments for processing into sugar. Experiments have shown that the briquettes can be stored for long periods without chemical change.

The reports said it is believed in Russia that the widespread use of this system will result in a rapid expansion of beet planting, higher annual sugar production, and speedy restoration of the industry in the Ukraine.

The Lupton Theatre was crowded to the doors Sunday night for the Victory Loan Rally. A good musical program was arranged and was made by members of the local Victory Loan committee and a stirring talk was given by F.O. Muller who was recently returned from active service. HAVE YOU BOUGHT YOUR BOND?

We know we don't need to, but perhaps we should remind all and sundry that the Seventh Victory Loan is now on. If you haven't bought your bond yet you should be prepared to do so when the salesman calls. Hey, we wonder if bought is the right word? Finally when you buy something your money is gone and your purchase is either eaten up or worn out in due time, a total loss. With Victory Bonds this is definitely not the case. True your money goes for the bond. However, it is not lost. You collect interest continually and your original investment comes back to you, plus the interest, as a token of thankfulness to the

No. 1 great thought is not the word. Perhaps we should say "have you invested in your Victory Bond yet?" Don't try to make yourself believe that the Government can get along without this loan, and don't get the idea that Victory is just around the corner. The Government is spending more now than ever on the prosecution of the war and on relief for liberated nations and peoples. Your money is urgently needed to carry on. That there still remains a lot of bitter and bloody fighting, is clearly shown by the stiff opposition that Allied forces meet at all key points, and the fact that reinforcements by the enemy are shifted from one theatre to another as the need demands. There are many young men and boys in the Nazi forces, and it is true that they are ill fed and poorly clothed in a great many instances, but they are still full of fight and our casualty list is growing steadily.

The Manager,

Dear Sir:

I enclose application form agreeing to purchase (par value) of 3% Seventh Victory Loan Bonds to which is attached cheque for an initial payment of $10.

I promise to pay you the balance of the purchase price plus accrued interest at 3% per annum within six months from the date of this letter.

Yours very truly,

(Signature)

INITIAL PAYMENT SHOULD BE AT LEAST 10% OF PAR VALUE

Fill out the Letter and attach it to your application—it is an order on your bank to buy Bonds for you.

You have Six Months to Pay the Bank for the Bonds—The Interest the Bonds Earn Pays the Bank Interest on the Loan. No further security is required.

● You say you want to do all you can to help Canada's war effort. Then you will keep on buying Victory Bonds. You will buy all you can.

You recognize the obligation that we, at home, owe to our men overseas. You know that stocks of munitions which our fighting men need are being depleted and must be replaced. You know that more munitions must go forward—and you will buy Victory Bonds to help pay for them.

You would like to be able to buy more bonds, you say. Well here is how you can do it. You can buy more bonds with money as you get it. Any bank will loan you the money to do this and the interest on the bonds will pay the cost of the bank loan. All you have to do is to sign the letter shown here—which you can get from your Victory Loan Salesman. You make a first payment of 10% or more when you apply for the bonds, and pay the balance at any time over a period of six months.

You will be doing an important war job when you do this. You will be helping your country and backing up her fighting men. You will get another reward, too, that will benefit yourself. You will have money, later on, when the war has been won—to do things you plan to do—money to improve your farm and your home.

CANADA'S VETERANS Their Post-War Opportunities

This is the Fourth in a series of advertisements to inform the people of Canada of plans to re-establish men and women of the armed forces. To get full details, save and read every advertisement.

For complete information, write for the booklet, "Back to Civil Life."

Home and Farm Ownership— The Man Who Wants His Own Business

There are two ways in which Canada's service people can have homes of their own. One measure, the Veterans' Land Act, provides assistance in financing homes on small acreages of land outside the high taxation area, while the re-establishment credit may be used for purchase or building of a home in town or city. Low cost financing is available under the National Housing Act. Under the Veterans' Land Act, assistance is given in financing up to a maximum of $4800 for land and buildings. The veteran must be prepared to pay down 10 per cent of the cost of land and buildings and the property is then sold to him for this down payment plus two-thirds of the cost. This balance may be financed, if necessary, over 25 years, with interest at 3½ per cent. A further grant may be made for purchase of equipment.

The veteran is given title to the property, including the grant of 23½ per cent of the cost of land and buildings and the money for equipment, after he has lived up to his agreement for ten years.

If the re-establishment credit is used for a home, the veteran must be prepared to put up one dollar for every two dollars used from it. This type of assistance may be applied for at any time within 10 years of discharge.

FARMERS AND COMMERCIAL FISHERMEN

Veterans qualified for full time farming and for commercial fishing may receive assistance in purchasing a farm or home under the Veterans' Land Act in the same way as the veteran wanting a home on a small acreage, outside the high taxation area. In the case of full time farming, an additional grant of $1200 is available for purchase of stock and equipment, and in commercial fishing the commercial fisherman may receive up to $1200 to buy needed fishing equipment. To benefit under any of the three provisions of the Veterans' Land Act, the ex-service man or woman must have overseas service or at least 12 months' service in Canada.

TO ASSIST BUSINESSMEN

One purpose for which the re-establishment credit may be used is to buy a business or to provide working capital for a business. Here again application may be made at any time in the 10 years after discharge.

In addition to using the re-establishment credit in this way, people who start their own businesses, or farmers, may draw maintenance grants, during the period they are awaiting returns from the business or the farm. These grants may be paid in the first 18 months after discharge, for the period of service, and up to a maximum of one year.

VETERANS' WELFARE OFFICERS ARE STATIONED IN KEY CENTRES THROUGHOUT CANADA. THEY ADVISE AND ASSIST EX-SERVICE PERSONNEL, AND SHOULD BE CONSULTED ON ALL PROBLEMS.
